Airina Volungevičienė

- My Institution – Vytautas Magnus University
- Subjects that I teach:
    - Information Technologies in Education
    - Education Quality Assurance

The main concern that I see is to create lessons so that people would experience their outcomes in artificial conditions and would get prepared for real life experience. It is difficult to decide what lesson should be to bring correct understanding.

When I do not teach nor think about teaching using ICT, I spend my time with my family. I teach my three girls creating as amusing lessons, as I can. Their lessons should be easy – going.

Most difficult scenario is to create interesting, real – life situations that would teach us to prepare for autonomous, responsible and real easy going life.
